

Tracie Fountain is a Certified Public Accountant and a graduate of Drexel University. Tracie served in the Pennsylvania Auditor General's office for over 29 years. Serving in the administrations of four auditor generals, including Auditor General Eugene DePasquale. She has learned to apply the power of the pen to protect Pennsylvanians and their families.

Currently, the Auditor's office conducts over 5,000 audits per year, while operating with the smallest Auditor General's staff in history – the office demands someone with Tracie's wealth of knowledge and experience.

Tracie is running for Auditor General because she wants to continue the work of her past predecessors and to bring new and fresh ideas to the office from a field supervisor's and Bureau Director's perspective.

Tracie's leadership, through the release of transparent audit reports and established open lines of communications with Pennsylvania citizens, will ensure that Pennsylvania taxpayer funds are efficiently and effectively used for their intended purposes and that funded programs are achieving their established objectives.
